Cookie Overview

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer by websites that you visit. They are widely used in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the site.

Most web browsers allow some control of cookies through browser settings. To find out more about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set and how to manage and delete them, visit www.allaboutcookies.org.

Our Use of Cookies

Like most websites, we use cookies for a number of reasons, like counting visitors to a page, improving our users' experience, rendering content faster, helping us see which features are most popular, and just generally providing you with a better, more intuitive, and satisfying experience. The cookies we use generally fall into one of the following categories, based on the classification presented in The International Chambers of Commerce (ICC) Cookie Guide.

Category 1: Strictly necessary cookies

These cookies are strictly necessary to provide services that you have requested. Without these cookies, services you have asked for, cannot be provided.

Category 2: Performance cookies

These cookies collect information about how visitors use our website, for instance which pages visitors go to most often. The information collected by these cookies is aggregated, so these cookies don't collect information that identifies a visitor. The information collected is anonymous and is only used to improve the way our website works.

Category 2 cookies used by this website:
